
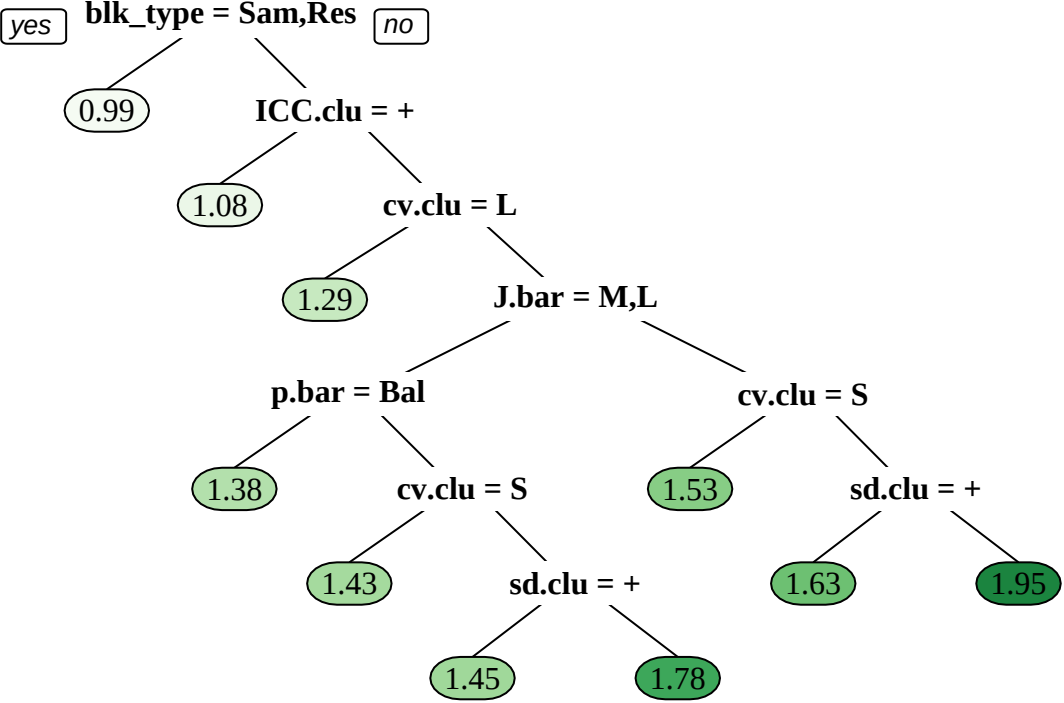

Figure 9: Regression tree which predicts the standard error inflation under different data generating parameters for the fixed effect methods