
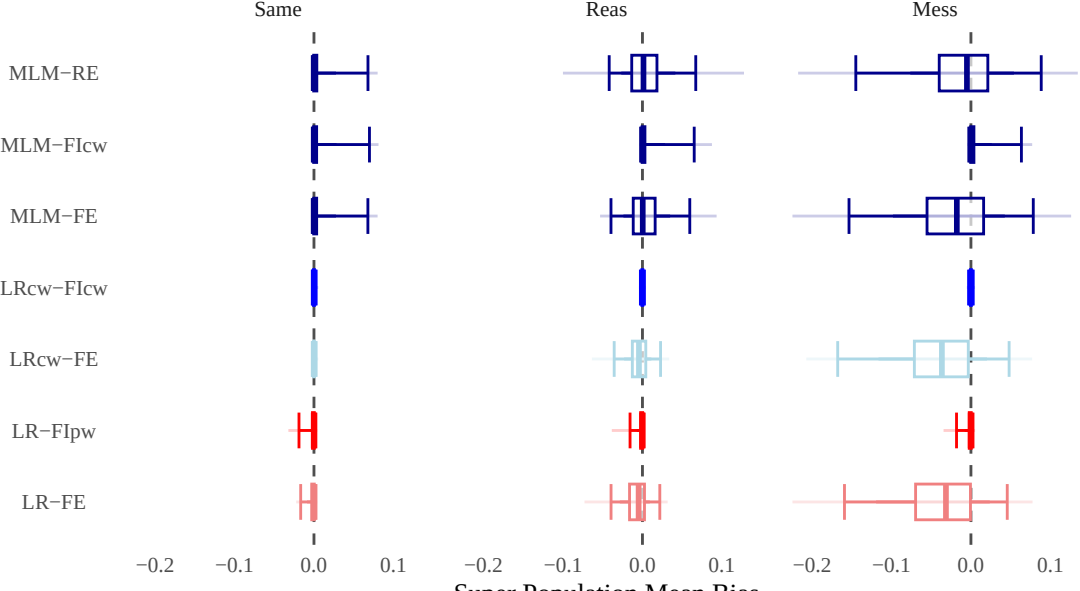

Figure 2: Boxplot of superpopulation mean bias of each estimator relative to its target estimand across scenarios, separated by method. The faint horizontal lines extend to the full range, the bars span the 2.5th to 97.5th percentiles, and the boxes span the 10th to 90th percentiles. Aggregated regression methods coincide with their non−aggregated counterparts when there are no level 1 covariates.